

How to download seismic data files and header files for Rayfract® tutorials :

All of our tutorials at <https://rayfract.com/tutorials/TUTORIAL.ZIP> and SAGEEP 2010 short course tutorials at <https://rayfract.com/SAGEEP10.pdf> have a link (displayed in blue) to the seismic input data and header data files. This link is shown after the first few instructions, describing how to create a new profile in our software.

- create the new profile with File|New Profile and edit Header|Profile as described in the tutorial
- click on that link in the tutorial and download the .ZIP archive to your hard disk
- open Windows Explorer and navigate into your download directory
- select the .ZIP archive with left mouse button
- right-click the selected .ZIP archive and select "Copy" command
- navigate into your new profile's input directory which you just created as described in the tutorial :
C:\RAY32\<your profile name>\INPUT
- paste above .ZIP archive with "Paste" command in Windows Explorer "Organize" menu
- right-click the .ZIP archive in your INPUT directory and select "Extract here" command
- proceed in the tutorial with step-by-step instructions on how to import the data and process the data
